

FISA Foundation, in collaboration with our partners, invites you and your friends and colleagues to an informal evening with:

The GIMP Project

A forum with members of Heidi Latsky Dance Company

DISABILITY IS: natural, beautiful, original, artistic, amazing, normal, individual, sexy, vibrant, confrontational, mainstream, paradoxical ...

Where: Rodef Shalom Congregation, 4905 5th Avenue, Pittsburgh
When: Tuesday, October 11, 2011, 7:00 – 9:00 p.m.
Cost: No Charge
RSVP: by October 7th – www.pittsburghartscouncil.org/accessibility
Contact: FISA Foundation 412-456-5550 or info@fisafoundation.org for more information or to request accommodations.

Heidi Latsky, nationally recognized disability rights speaker, commentator and choreographer, is the artistic director of The GIMP Project that includes dancers of various abilities who create an edgy stereotype-shattering performance. Heidi's mission is to produce high quality dances where the unique attributes of each performer are mined to create virtuosic, evocative and cutting edge works.

Artistic Director Heidi Latsky, Associate Director Jeffrey Freeze and dancer Toby Macnutt will share video clips of GIMP and discuss the complex nature of this kind of physically integrated work that the company has been involved in since 2006.

“GIMP is without doubt a gleaming milestone in the progress of contemporary dance and theater, proving that the term ‘disabled dancer’ is an oxymoron.”

~Dance Magazine

“GIMP beautifully resets preconceptions about bodies and movement.”

~The New Yorker

Co-sponsored by:

University of Pittsburgh
 School of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences
 Department of Rehabilitation Science & Technology

JEWISH WOMEN'S FOUNDATION OF GREATER PITTSBURGH

accessAbilities, Inc. strengthening independent lives